With different shopping options to cater to different wants and needs, shopping or rather spending money unnecessarily is definitely inevitable.

Part 3

You are going to read a passage. For questions 19 to 26, *choose the correct answer (A, B, C or D) and mark the correct letter A,B, C or D on your answer sheet.

In life, there are so many unexpected twists and turns. Things I thought would not be possible have most often turned out to be possible! I thought it was impossible for me to get through my A-levels in a short time but I made it. To my amazement, I did considerably well, too. On the other hand, I have put much effort into a particular project, thinking that it would definitely bear good results, but it has turned out otherwise. And vice versa, when less effort is put in, sometimes things turn out better than my expectations.

Some days in life are so beautiful, I wish they could have somehow stood still and lasted for an eternity. Some memories are so beautiful, I hope they will remain etched and never forgotten. I have met some people in life that I hope never be parted from; even if it is just memories that will always dwell within me when they are absent.

But there are also days when I have wished I would not live to see the next day, torn down by darkness, overcome by worries that destroy my peace of mind. Some memories I want to erase and never recall. I have so many questions that remain unanswered and I wonder if I will ever attain the answers before my soul leaves my body.

Tough times ought to teach us lots of lessons. The pain that comes with challenges helps us to face other hurdles put before us with much ease. What remains is that we stick to our ultimate goal and work diligently to achieve it without being distracted and hurt by the words of those around us. Tough times actually bring out the best in us; they test our tolerance and faith.

I am a timid person, who is always intimidated by the worries of tomorrow and I find it very hard to face my troubles. There are times when I wonder what the purpose is of me being here? Why bring such a timid person to this world? Afraid of attending school, not wanting to leave the comfort of home and the protective arms of my mother, I was never brave enough to handle things myself. In fact, my younger brother has always been bolder and braver than me. Today, I am an adult, but I have not fully overcome my fears.

Thankfully for me, my father has always been a saviour, guiding me through life. I always see myself as his reflection and think of myself as being his replica. Hopefully, I am and will be able to emulate him. His advice, sayings and guidance have been my pillar of strength.

My mother has always been the one holding the candle that brightens my pathway. Her cheer and encouragement can lift even the saddest parts of me. Her ear-to-ear grin has helped to keep me going even in the dullest of situations. I admire the way she takes things in her stride and works her way out in a carefree and optimistic manner.

My brother has taught me a lot as he is the person whom I spent most of my childhood and days with. He has been my best friend – always by my side through thick and thin. I also have a good friend, Ashburn, who has been by my side, encouraging me always.

In a nutshell, life has to go on no matter what obstacles stand in our way. We can only be good at walking if we fall a few times, feel the pain and bruises, and keep at it. Family and friends will be there to help you along the way.

Part 4

Questions 27 to 32

You are going to read an article about a student who organised a clothes donation event. Six sentences have been removed from the article. Choose from the sentences A to H the one which fits each gap (27 to 32). There are two extra sentences which you do not need to use.

Graffiti: Art or Crime?

Have you ever seen colourfully sprayed writing or drawings on walls of buildings or when walking past a street? If you have, those 'works of art' you see are graffiti. To begin with, graffiti is any drawings or writing scribbled or sprayed illegally on a wall or other surface in a public area.

In some countries, spraying graffiti on walls of public places might get one arrested or fined as it is an illicit act and getting the walls cleaned would cost money. 27 [ ] Graffiti is also viewed negatively as vulgar language, making any walls with such work an eyesore to the community. Sometimes, words to protest certain issues are also sprayed, likely causing tension in the society, especially if it is a racial issue.

For individuals who draw graffiti illicitly, it is a form of self-expression. 28 [ ] Not only that, some draw graffiti as a way to release stress or vent all their pent-up emotions. Doing so does not hurt others and might even add life to a place, but some frown upon it as they find it defaces the space or property of others. 29 [ ] It could also be a way to gain attention as passers-by stop to look at the graffiti although the artists might be anonymous.

30 [ ] Although it is an offence in certain countries, there are also graffiti artists who are employed to beautify a section of walls or buildings with their works of art. Many would line the graffitied streets just to take pictures of those stunning works of art. The difference here is that being employed to spray graffiti makes it a job done with permission instead of a crime when graffiti is sprayed according to one's whims and fancies. 31 [ ]

Having said all that, it is evident that the deciding factor of whether spraying graffiti is a crime or not is the consent obtained. 32 [ ] So, be sure to do it the right way if you are interested in drawing.

Part 5

Questions 33 to 40.

Read the descriptions of different pets and answer the questions that follow.

Which Pet Is Right for You?

A – Cats

Cats are very popular pets. They can get by on their own and keep clean by licking themselves. They are affectionate and playful at the same time but one has to be cautious of their sharp claws. Many people are allergic to cats so one needs to spend time with a cat in a pet shop before bringing one home.

B – Rabbits

Rabbits are generally clean animals, rarely get sick and have their own personality. They are adorable and cuddly but require a lot of attention. They require a diet that is low in energy, calcium and protein but high in fibre. Rabbits can live alone.

C – Dogs

Dogs are the most popular pets in the world. These animals are well-known for being loyal and loving. They are sturdy, faithful and devoted to their owners. But of all pets, dogs require the most work. They need to be housetrained to relieve themselves only outside. They need daily exercise and owners have to take them for regular exercise and bathe them.

D – Fish

Fish are ideal as pets if you live in a small space or suffer from allergies. It is also perfect for busy people as fish do not need to be walked or taken to the veterinarian. The owner has to clean the aquarium or fish bowl frequently so that the water is clean and the fish are healthy. They are easy to feed too.

E – Birds

Birds are colourful, interesting and entertaining pets. The most common kept birds are the canary and parrot. Birds are wonderful companions and can live for up to dozens of years. They are also delicate animals that need to be cared for carefully.

F – Hamsters

Hamsters are small, cute and can fit in your hands. That is why they should be kept in a cage as one can easily step on them. These animals do not require a lot of attention but a hamster ball or wheel is advised for them to get exercise and be able to roam about outside their cages safely. Due to their size, one can have two or three hamsters at any one time.
