3 What is the main message of the writer's diary entry?

Night Market vs Shopping Mall: A Personal Experience

Having visited both night markets and shopping malls on (0) numerous occasions, I have come to appreciate the distinct experiences that each offers, as they differ not only in atmosphere but also in how engaged I feel. Although both serve as popular shopping (9)_____ , my experiences in each setting have shaped my preferences in different ways.

Whenever I find myself in a shopping mall, what (10)_____ most is the level of comfort and convenience it provides, particularly due to its air-conditioned environment, which allows me to (11) _____ for extended periods without feeling physically drained, even during hot or rainy weather. Moreover, with facilities such as cinemas, restaurants, and entertainment centres all located within the same space, it becomes possible to combine shopping with leisure activities, making each visit both (12) _____ and enjoyable.

In contrast, my experiences at night markets tend to be far more dynamic and immersive, largely because of the (13) _____ atmosphere created by the crowded passages, lively stalls, and the constant buzz of activity. As I move through the market, I am often drawn to the variety of street food and handmade (14) _____, which not only reflect local culture but also make each visit feel distinct. What further enhances the experience is the opportunity to interact directly with sellers and engage in (15) _____, which, although sometimes challenging, brings a sense of success and personal satisfaction when a good deal is secured.

Despite these appealing aspects, I have also encountered certain (16) _____ at night markets, such as unpredictable weather conditions and limited parking spaces, which can occasionally reduce the enjoyment of the (17) _____ experience. Nevertheless, it is precisely this lively and authentic environment that continues to draw me in. All in all, while I tend to choose shopping malls when I (18) _____ comfort and efficiency, I am more inclined to visit night markets when I desire a richer, more engaging experience that goes beyond mere shopping.
